

OCTOROON IS LEE WIDOW, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Lucinda Anderson Claims Estate of Late Chicago Book Publisher.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—A woman who gives the name of Mrs. Lucinda Anderson appeared before Judge Dankowski in the probate court yesterday afternoon and filed a claim to the estate of the late William H. Lee, the Chicago publisher whose past life is a mystery and who was supposed to have died without heirs. Mrs. Anderson claims to be Lee's widow.

The petition simply sets forth that Mrs. Lucinda Anderson is the widow of William A. Anderson, alias William H. Lee, and that they had four children, two of whom died in infancy. The others were named as Mrs. Lucille Brown and Mrs. Sadie Burdine of 5425 South Wabash avenue.

Mrs. Anderson declared in court she would go to Coroner Hoffman and ask the exhumation of Mr. Lee's body in order to make a positive identification. She said she had identified pictures published in the newspapers some time after the death of the publisher as those of her husband, who deserted her 39 years ago and of whom she never had obtained any trace until the death of the man known as Lee.

The woman is an octoroon and is almost white. Likewise, she said, her husband could easily pass for a member of the white race. They lived in a negro settlement known as "Smith's Corner" at Yorkville, Mich., a village near Benton Harbor, she said, until he disappeared 39 years ago.

Since then she had never heard of him until her daughter, Mrs. Burdine, began an investigation following the publisher's death when, she told the judge, she became aware that he had used the name of Lee and posed as a white man.

IS MYSTERY IN HANGING OF A COUNTESS ON TRAIN

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—Countess Marie Tarnowska, who in 1910 was convicted in Venice of complicity in the murder of Count Kamarowsky and sentenced to eight years' imprisonment, was found dead on a St. Petersburg-Kiev express train yesterday. She had been hanged. The police are investigating to determine whether it is a case of suicide or murder. The countess was pardoned last year. Countess Tarnowska, a beautiful Russian woman, was charged and found guilty of having persuaded a jealous youth, Nikolai Naumoff, to go to Venice from Vienna, and kill Count Kamarowsky, so she might obtain $100,000 life insurance, the policy which Kamarowsky had taken out in her name.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Quickly Relieved.

Morton L. Hill of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had inflammatory rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried Dr. Detton's Relief for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk in three days. I am sure it saved her life."
